

Nexora Technologies — Engineering Team Dummy Data

Fictional dataset for permission-aware RAG testing. All names, employee IDs, salaries, projects, and company information are dummy data.

1. Company

Company Name	Nexora Technologies Pvt. Ltd.
Organization ID	ORG-NEX-001
Department	Engineering
Engineering Members	20

2. Engineering Team Structure

Frontend Engineers: 5 | AI Engineers: 2 | Database Engineers: 3 | Backend Engineers: 10 | Total: 20

3. Previous Project — NexoraConnect

Project ID: PROJ-NC-001

Status: Completed

NexoraConnect was a large-scale real-time communication and collaboration platform. It supported messaging, file sharing, notifications, team channels, search, activity feeds, analytics, and organization management. The system used cloud infrastructure, load balancing, caching, distributed databases, asynchronous processing, and scalable API services. Approximately 10 million users globally used the platform at its peak.

Major components: user authentication and authorization; real-time messaging; team and organization management; file sharing; notification services; search; activity feeds; analytics; distributed database infrastructure; API services; web application; mobile API infrastructure.

4. Current Project — NexoraFlow

Project ID: PROJ-NF-002

Status: Currently in development

NexoraFlow is the company's next-generation intelligent workflow and automation platform. It is designed to help organizations automate repetitive business processes using AI, workflow orchestration, event-driven backend services, and intelligent document processing. Users will be able to create workflows connecting business applications, documents, databases, and AI services.

Current engineering work: workflow orchestration; REST APIs; event-driven services; user and organization management; frontend dashboard; AI-powered workflow features; document processing; database architecture; search and retrieval; monitoring and observability; security and access control; multi-tenant infrastructure.

Current project goal: Build a secure, scalable, multi-tenant platform capable of supporting thousands of organizations while keeping each organization's data isolated from other organizations.

5. Future Project — NexoraLM

Project ID: PROJ-NLM-003

Status: Future / Planned

NexoraLM is the planned future project to develop and train the company's own Large Language Model. The company intends to reduce dependence on third-party language models by developing its own model and supporting AI infrastructure.

Expected areas: dataset preparation; data cleaning; tokenization; model architecture research; pre-training; fine-tuning; evaluation; distributed model training; GPU infrastructure; model serving; inference optimization; AI safety and security; model monitoring; internal AI APIs.

6. Engineering Employees

Employee ID	Name	Age	Team	Role	Current Salary
NEX-ENG-001	Aarav Mehta	29	Frontend	Senior Frontend Engineer	■24,00,000
NEX-ENG-002	Priya Sharma	27	Frontend	Frontend Engineer	■18,50,000
